

I am against Power Line Communications. It has the potential to severely limit HF communications in the US. US military, amatuer, airline and any other service could be severely hampered.
Satellite internet services are available.